General Participants Feedback:

Participants appreciated the celebration as an engaging and motivating initiative that emphasized the importance of sports and fitness in university life. They found the addresses by the Vice Chancellor and Pro Vice Chancellor particularly inspiring and appreciated the recognition given to teachers. The student's yoga performance was also well received and encouraged participants to explore yoga and other physical activities as part of a healthy lifestyle. Overall, participants expressed positive interest in having more sports, yoga, and wellness activities on campus.

Recommendations:

It was recommended that the university organize sports and fitness activities regularly throughout the academic year rather than limiting them to special occasions. More opportunities may be provided for students and faculty to participate in yoga sessions, fitness programmes, sports competitions, and awareness activities. Regular wellness initiatives can further strengthen a culture of physical fitness, teamwork, discipline, and healthy living across the university community.
