On 10th April, a vision screening and awareness camp was successfully conducted at Little Star High School, Belur, organized by the Department of Optometry, Swami Vivekananda University. The primary objective of the camp was to promote eye health awareness among school students and to identify common vision problems at an early stage.

The camp was led by esteemed faculty members including Dr. Prabirendra Nath Sinha, Dr. Manas Chakraborty, and the Head of the Department, Ms. Dipanwita Ghosh. Their guidance and expertise ensured the smooth execution of the program.

A team of optometry students actively participated in the camp under the supervision of the faculty members. Various preliminary eye examinations were conducted, including visual acuity tests, color vision testing, and basic ocular health assessments. Students identified with refractive errors or other eye-related issues were advised to seek further consultation and treatment.

In addition to screenings, an awareness session was organized where students were educated about the importance of eye care, proper hygiene, and the impact of excessive screen time on vision. Interactive discussions made the session engaging and informative.

The school authorities extended their full support and cooperation, which contributed significantly to the success of the camp. The initiative not only helped in early detection of vision problems but also instilled awareness about maintaining good eye health among young students.

Overall, the camp was a meaningful and impactful outreach activity, reflecting the commitment of the Department of Optometry towards community service and preventive healthcare.
